WEDDING

PARROTT HUNTER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Fraser of Stander, was the setting of a very pretty afternoon wedding when Miss Lorraine, youngest daughter of Mr. George Hunter of Gleichen was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Wallace Parrott, twin son of Mr. W. Parrott and the late Wm. Parrott, formerly of Bassano and now of Long Beach, California, by Rev. Hunt of Strathmore. The marriage was solemnized before the fireplace, which was tastefully decorated with red roses, tulips and daisies in a room trimmed with pink and white streamers in the presence of only immediate relatives.

The bride wore a tulle blue dressmaker suit with black accessories. Her carriage was of rose tulle. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas G. Fraser, was matron of honor, and chose for the occasion a brown tulle dressmaker suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. T. G. Fraser wore best man. Rev. Hunt sang "I Love You Truly."

The groom's father, Mr. Wm. Parrott, was a matched travelling set and to the Matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas G. Fraser. Following the reception the young couple left for a honeymoon in the mountains.

The bride has been on the staff of the Gleichen, Alberta, Telephone Exchange for the past eight years. The groom was a Japanese prisoner of war, having been captured on Wake Island and later interned in the camp of Kiamoto. They will make their home at 2189 Lincoln Avenue, Long Beach, California.

Current events were given by all but retreat from necessary wartime controls, but no observer in the Capital anticipated Mr. Gordon being routed in this action. Of more immediate and controllable influence on WPT policy is the Canadian black market, and the launching of an intensified WPT counter-attack is already producing results. New pressure is expected all along the black market front and the 15,000 convictions already won are expected to increase. Black

BANKING IN ACTION

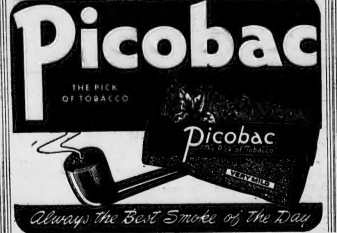

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has loaned millions of dollars to farmers through the years of expanding frontiers. Throughout Canada it has applied Banking in Action to help build this nation's thriving dairy and livestock industry.

Flourishing fields of grain—fat livestock, fruitful dairy herds and flocks—cereals, meats, milk, cheese, butter, eggs; the food of a nation and the hopes of starving peoples abroad; thriving communities, dependent for their welfare on the farmer—all these things flow from Canada's Agricultural Industry. That is Banking in Action.

The Question Of Immigration

CANADA'S FUTURE POLICY in regard to immigration is a subject that is of considerable interest at the present time, both to Canadian and to people of other lands who are interested in the possibilities of making new homes here. The people of Canada hold many divergent views on this subject, but it is generally agreed that no definite plans should be formulated until the present housing and employment problems here are satisfactorily solved, and all veterans and war workers have been re-established. In the past, immigration played an important part in Canada's development. Between the years 1851 and 1941 nearly seven million immigrants were admitted to this country. The peak year was 1913, when 400,870 persons came here from other lands. All these people did not remain permanently. Some later emigrated to the United States, others returned to their native lands, but the majority of them did stay here and they have had an important part in the industrial and cultural growth of the country.

Many Wish To Leave Europe

Despatches from abroad tell of the interest of the people in many parts of Europe in the possibilities of making new homes in Canada, and other countries where there are opportunities and living space. The devastation of war, followed by acute food shortages and political unrest, have created an increasing desire among many Europeans to get away from all this, and establish themselves in new surroundings. One writer, commenting on this subject, says, "Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South Africa, South America—wealthy citizens cling to these visions of sunny skies, rolling plains, forest lands and untapped mineral soils in regions waiting for more men; countries where confused ideologies can be cast off like solid garments." In Britain, likewise there is evidence of much interest in immigration, and reports tell of thousands of people besieging Dominion offices for information.

Problem Is A Complex One

In France, a recent survey revealed that forty per cent. of the men between the ages of twenty and thirty-eight wished to leave the country. This figure is considered to be very high, since in the past the French have been among those least willing to leave their own land. The percentage of those wishing to leave Central European countries is reported to be higher than that recorded in France, and in Sweden and Denmark there are also many who plan to find new homes abroad. While the governments of the British Dominions and the Latin American states ponder the problems of permitting large-scale immigration, the countries of Europe are likewise concerned at the prospect of losing many of their citizens at a time when the population is depleted by war, and men are urgently needed for the task of reconstruction. One observer sums up the situation in these words: "The newer world needs more men for economic expansion or for self-defence. Europe must keep her men if she is merely to survive." The problem is a complex one, and much wisdom and tolerance will be required in dealing with it.

British Artists Draw Pictures of Bananas, Mushrooms, and Tomatoes

British artists smothered the 17th exhibition of the Royal Academy with loving depictions of cypresses, bananas, mushrooms, tomatoes, onions and joints of beef, not to mention overstudied nudes who couldn't have got that way on ordinary civilian rations.

The handful of critics given a preview of the art event of the year toured the 1,200 paintings, drawings and sculptures and agreed that the artists had been doing still life work from memory. Mushrooms, for one item, are more than 32 a pound and adults haven't had bananas for more than seven years.

The United States And Canada Plan Harvesting Exchanges

An international agreement allowing the exchange of harvesting labor between the United States and Canada is being effected again this year, the labor department has announced. Similar plans were in effect during the war.

The plan covers the movement of such equipment as harvesters and combine reapers between the prairie provinces and adjacent states.

Canadian operators with their harvesting crews and equipment may enter the United States May 15 and later and the latest date for their return has been set at Sept. 1, when Canada's harvesting commences. United States crews and equipment will be permitted to remain in Canada until Dec. 31.

Food Shortage

There Is Urgent Need For More Home Gardens

Emphasizing the fact that an increasing number of home gardens will help to meet the desperate world food shortage, A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Food Information Committee, said: "The Victory Gardens of the war years are still needed in the year against them. Once again they can help to win victory over a bitter enemy of humanity—famine."

A quarter of a million Victory Gardens would be a suitable goal for this year, Mr. Shaw said. "The food produced in these gardens will make possible increased shipments of staple products such as wheat, meat, cheese and eggs to the hungry people in several countries. The 226,000 home gardens planted in cities and towns across Canada in 1944 produced approximately 120 million pounds of potatoes, carrot tops, turnips, cabbage, onions and other garden produce.

There is ample seed available on the market, as well as tools and fertilizer to meet the needs of victory gardeners. A helpful pamphlet entitled "The Wartime Garden" may be obtained free from the Dominion Bureau of Agriculture, Ottawa.

SOUTH AFRICAN GOLD

Former Manibob Drilled The Core That Produced Phenomenal Strike

E. C. Hicks, the former Manibob who drilled the core for Gold Number One borehole that produced South Africa's most phenomenal gold strike in a generation, gives main credit for the discovery to another former Manibob, Dr. J. A. Bancroft.

Mr. Hicks, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hicks still live at High Street, Man., made this modest comment on the find which hit the headlines around the world:

"Dr. Bancroft decided where the borehole should be drilled, and I only took the core out of the drill and assayed it."

Dr. Bancroft, consulting geologist to the Anglo-American Corporation and formerly a professor of geology at the University of Manitoba, now in charge of the corporation's drilling activities in this field.

Dr. Hicks spends most of his time in the field and is one of the best-known characters in Oshana's Bush in the centre of the Free State gold.

The never-ending friendly feud between him and rival drillers sometimes is conducted with such ferocity—especially during the last few weeks—that the uninitiated often think the argument must end in blows. But although Mr. Hicks has been accused by his rivals of many things, he is not a violent man on the new fields and is held in high esteem.

The core he drew from the number one borehole proved to be 100 times richer than the average gold ore on the Witwatersrand field, but Mr. Hicks, the man who first knew the sensational news, does not hold a single share in the company.

Young Canadian War Veteran Falls Help To A Fortune

A young Canadian war veteran, Bud Lloyd, has fallen heir to more than $100,000, bequeathed by a Maine farmer he helped to save from robbery years ago.

The 30-year-old Lloyd was visited by a neighbor, Mr. J. H. N. B., and was informed the latter had a radio repair shop in St. John, N.B., and was the owner of the estate of the late Dr. Fred Lloyd. Lloyd was named the sole beneficiary.

The veteran who served in the Canadian Army five years recalled that he and his brother died during the war. The 70-year-old, Finnish-born farmer was attacked by a gang of men several years ago. Street gang Lloyd a job on his farm at the time and they became close friends, greatly aided by the fact the younger man could speak Finnish.

After leaving Maine, Bud married and later joined the Army. He had not heard from Street for several years, he declared.

Evacuee From Scotland Has Chosen Canada As Her Home

An evacuee from Glasgow who has an oratorical count two years after her arrival without showing a trace of Scottish accent, Frances Anderson Pitkethly is the only "war guest" in Dufferin County, Ont., who has chosen Canada as her home instead of returning to Scotland.

Frances, whose mother died two years ago, came to Canada in the fall of 1940 when she was 10 years old. Her father, a brother and a sister are still in Glasgow and only Pitkethly hopes to come and see his expatriate daughter as soon as travelling facilities permit.

A patrol leader of Sheldene's Girl Guides, Frances has become proficient at skating and skiing and is progressing with her studies at Sheldene High School.

A steady correspondence has been kept up between Mr. Pitkethly and Frances' local "father," F. O. Fleming, and the Pitkethly home in Glasgow has often been a leave-haven for Sheldene's officers and men in England.

Sir Ernest MacMillan Is To Conduct Orchestra In Brazil

Sir Ernest MacMillan, conductor of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, will leave early in July for Brazil where he has been invited to appear as guest conductor of one of the foremost symphony orchestras in South America.

The invitation was arranged through Hon. Jean Desy, Canadian Ambassador to Brazil, who has long held a belief that South Americans should hear music of their northern neighbors.

Community Service

Newspaper Can Do Much Toward Building Up A District

The Canadian Printer and Publisher says: A newspaper is more than a purveyor of news. For one thing it is expected to lead in community welfare to be alert to the needs of its city, town and district. It is expected to advocate changes in the community which are in the public interest. It is expected to be a public-relations mouthpiece for the dissemination of news and information.

Many examples of this kind of community leadership have been witnessed in both the daily and weekly newspaper fields. Indeed, Canada is fortunate to have a press of high standards. Some papers, especially, stand out as examples of what a newspaper can achieve by constantly being alert to opportunities, coupled with the desire to render community service.

Wherever you find community service rendered you usually find a successful newspaper—either in small town or larger city.

Most of this has been received in town so get behind it and the work will go on. The foundation will be started within the next month and if everybody pitches in the building will be complete in early fall. This is a community effort so let's all do our share.

The Legion has cancelled its dance and carnival set for the evening of June 12th. On that date the Indians held their annual stampede and in past years staged a dance in the evening in the Community Hall and intended to do the same this year. The Veterans rented the hall first. The stampede managers did not appreciate this and objected vigorously. Upon becoming aware of the above facts the Veterans requested the town to turn the hall over to the Indians for that evening and they would cancel the carnival. The Veterans may pay the show on at a later date.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. Charlotte Whetton, C.M.E., and under the signature of the Right Rev. J. E. Carson, chairman of the executive of the Anglican Appeal, an organization of women not affiliated with any of the activities in the Church of England in Canada has been formed meeting the challenge to women and girls of the Anglican Faith in Canada. The National W.N.A. Committee will be set up representative of women from all the dioceses and major occupational groups in which women are engaged. The committee will consist of from 30 to 40 members. The aims of the organization are to bring into the church those Anglican women and girls known only to the census and to obtain the direct participation in the organizations of the church of women and girl communicants not yet affiliated in any of the church's organizations. So lend your support to the limit of your ability when the visitor calls on you this week.

National Parks

The stage is now set for the revival of holiday making in Canada. Vacationing has become part of the Canadian pattern. Time was when only the comparatively few in good financial circumstances made up the bulk of our summer vacationists. They were readily recognizable by their manner of dress or their air of leisure and comfortable prosperity. Nowadays almost everyone in Canada is a potential vacationist, and vacationing has become a year-round enjoyment. Longer holidays and holidays with pay have greatly contributed to this new economic factor. Better means of transportation, better catering facilities and the provision of more playgrounds and open spaces for the millions of tourists who now seek the great outdoors have all played a part in bringing about this revolutionary change in our national habits.

Among the greatest developments in the provision of playgrounds for holiday seekers are the national parks. Canada adopted a far-sighted policy when this system of national playgrounds was established. If you can regard conservation, recreation and culture as national dividends, these parks have already paid handsome dividends to the people of Can-

Why Tweed?

Tweeds were originally home-spun from Scottish Cheviot wools. For many years they were called twill. But Scottish tongues pronounce twill as "tweed." In a certain lawsuit, it was read as "tweed," by one James Lock of London. It was the word "tweed," blotted or imperfectly written, which gave rise to the now familiar name. This was appropriate, since it was made almost exclusively on the banks of the River Tweed, in Scotland.

In EATON'S Catalogues, there's no doubt about whether a fabric is twill or tweed. Experts in EATON'S Research Bureau are constantly testing and examining merchandise, to ensure that descriptions are accurate. When EATON'S says it's a wool tweed, IT'S ALL-WOOL TWEED!

What a relief it is when you have deposited your money in the bank! No more worry lest it should be lost or stolen! You need only keep a little ready cash in your pocket or in the house. Bills can be paid by cheque and your cancelled cheque is your receipt.

When the teller hands you your pass book, you glance at the balance and know to a cent how much money you have. You are so accustomed to your bank's accuracy that you seldom bother to check the figures.

The very fact that you—and some 5,000,000 others—take all these conveniences as a matter of course is a daily demonstration of your confidence in the dependability and efficiency of your bank.
